SAVE BC'S WILD ABALONE

Abalone has been declared an endangered species despite a total closure since 1990. Stocks have not recovered due to poaching. You can help by not purchasing illegal BC abalone. If you witness poaching or suspicious activity call ORR.

OBSERVE, RECORD, REPORT: 1.800.465.4336

Reporting fisheries violations will help preserve our resource

- ☐ Date, time and location of violation
- ☐ Description of boats, vehicles and people
- ☐ Photos can be useful but do not endanger yourself
- ☐ Timely reporting is critical, you can remain anonymous.

PARALYTIC SHELLFISH POISONING

PSP or red tide is caused by an algal bloom that produces toxins that are stored by clams, oyster, mussels and scallops.

Cooking does NOT destroy toxins, check DFO website

This condition is not always visible in the water.
Eating contaminated shellfish can be fatal.

PSP or other toxins can contaminate shellfish any time of year, but is most common in warmer months, June to October. Shrimp and fish are not affected. Prior to harvesting shellfish, check ALL contamination closures including Paralytic (PSP), Amnesic (ASP), and Diarrhetic (DSP) Shellfish Poisoning, and Sanitary (emergency, annual, seasonal) closures.

Call 1.866.431.3474 or check DFO website (area 23 or 24).

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO NEAR THE WATER

Use CAUTION near the power of the open ocean.

Tragically, people are swept off rocks or caught by rip currents every year.
Be CoastSmart, don't let this happen to you.

Know today's tides and weather forecast before hiking.
